

BASTIAN DAMMANN

FULL STACK DEVELOPER

I am an ambitious and driven individual who has recently gained valuable experience in a one-year full stack development training. I am now seeking opportunities with forward-thinking organizations that undertake agile projects. My primary expertise lies in JavaScript, particularly with React and Express frameworks. However, I am also enthusiastic about expanding my programming language repertoire and prove my adaptability, logical thinking and strong receptiveness by acquiring additional certifications that enhance my personal and company's value.
